

App Name: Picadoo
Developer: John Patrick Morgan
Released: 14 Nov 2013
iTunes Link: <http://bit.ly/picadoo>
Gameplay vid: <http://bit.ly/picadooVid>
Format: Universal
Price: Free (with IAP)

Acclaim:

Picadoo was featured as the UK's no.1 new app in both word game and puzzle game categories (no.4 in US), and has attracted rave reviews.

Description:

PICADOO is a fun and addictive picture-guessing game with a devious twist. First choose 3 matching images from a grid of 12, then enter the word that describes those pictures. Find all 4 words to complete the grid and progress to the next level. As you progress, the difficulty increases, covering hundreds of beautiful images and over 250 words. Each set of pictures has been cunningly designed to stretch your lateral thinking and wordplay skills to breaking point. Players who get stuck can use hints or share with friends on Facebook/Twitter straight from the app. See what Twitter users are saying here.

How is Picadoo unique?

This is not another 4 pics clone! Each word is represented by three seemingly unconnected images: it requires deep thinking to find the answer. To increase the challenge further, the unique grid-based gameplay throws up false leads and red herrings, and each image might appear in numerous grids signifying very different words. Lastly, it's a joy to use: intuitive gameplay, satisfying animations and stunning images - with no ads distracting attention.

Developer History:

I have worked for several years as a music composer for primetime TV shows. I taught myself programming alongside my music work, in order to get some of the fantastic app ideas out of my head and into the App Store. Picadoo is the first of those great apps.

